

FULL STACK DEVELOPMENT CASE STUDY

The following is a demo website developed using HTML on pycharm framework. Satisfying most of the requirements. I have uploaded the code on github and the following are the images of the website.

- Login Page for the bank where admin enters the credentials.

- The following image shows sample login credentials for the admin on the same page. This redirects the website to the home page.

- The following is the home page which for the admin which shows all the bank accounts of the customers. The admin can add a new customer and also search the customers with filter option.

- This image shows the customer details named Alice registered with the bank with options of deposit, withdrawl, balance and transactions list.
